

YOUR PARTNER IN LIFELONG LEARNING

Lifelong learning is one of the most effective ways to deal with change, in our personal lives, in our work lives, in our communities. Rutgers Division of Continuing Studies provides educational programs for all ages from childhood through senior adult. We offer lifelong learning in a variety of formats – online, hybrid, face to face. Our programs support you at every career crossroad, whatever your profession.

We are committed to the support of lifelong learning in all its formats for audiences of all ages.
