

RUTGERS

School of Arts and Sciences

Searching for Timeless Truths

Mathematical and Physical Sciences

Social and Behavioral Sciences

Life Sciences

Humanities

An education in the School of Arts and Sciences covers many realms of knowledge, from the human experience, to the individual in society, to the inner workings of the natural world, to the natures and laws of the cosmos. Professor Richard E. Miller's course The Coming Apocalypse engages students in deep discussion over ancient to contemporary literature. "It connects back to real life in ways that I did not think possible," one student said. "It makes you think about how humanity is now."

sas.rutgers.edu

